Making Your Political Banner

Use a large, rectangular sheet of butcher paper. Include the following features:

- the name "Democratic-Republicans" in large letters that can be read at a distance.
- a catchy slogan that announces why a Democratic-Republican should be elected president in 1800.
- a picture or illustration of your party's founder, Thomas Jefferson.
- colorful visuals, illustrating three ways in which Americans will benefit under the leadership of a Democratic-Republican president.
- captions for all the visuals.

50pts.

Making Your Political Buttons

Use small circles of unlined paper (approximately four inches in diameter) to create political buttons that represent qualities of the Democratic-Republican Party. Each button should include the following features:

- the name "Democratic-Republicans."
- a catchy slogan that announces why a Democratic-Republican should be elected president in 1800.
- one visual illustrating an example of how Americans will benefit under Democratic-Republican leadership.
