

If you were looking for a place to establish a new community, what factors would you consider? Using the list below and any other ideas you have, rank the factors from most important to least important. Then, on another sheet of paper, write a paragraph explaining your choice for the most and least important factors.

- fresh water source
- fertile land
- friendly neighbors
- mild climate
- near a river or ocean
- near a forest
- an area suitable for defense or spotting enemies
- other: _____
